

Staff To Attend GCPA Meeting

The Colonnade will be represented at the annual mid-year dinner of the Georgia College Press Association, which will be held Friday evening at the Holman Hotel, Athens, in conjunction with the 17th annual session of the Georgia Press Institute.

The college editors of Georgia have been invited to attend the public sessions of the Georgia Press Institute, sponsored jointly by the Henry W. Grady School of Journalism and the Georgia Press Association. Many distinguished figures in journalistic and public life are on this year's program, including:

Thursday, February 17, Robert Considine, INS correspondent, editor of "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," etc.; Mrs. Willie Snow Ethridge, author of "Mingled Yarn," "I'll Sing One Song," etc.; Milton Caniff, cartoonist, creator of "Terry and the Pirates."

Friday, February 18, Hon. Olin D. Johnson, Governor of South Carolina; Hon. Ellis Arnall, Governor of Georgia; J. Norman Lodge, AP correspondent, just back from the Pacific.

Saturday, February 19, Major Milton V. O'Connell, USMC and Commander John L. Collins, USN, with first hand stories of the war; Byron Price, US Director of Censorship, Washington, and Paul Kern Lee, AP foreign correspondent just back from the European theater of war.

Attending the Institute for The Colonnade will be Helen Hall, June Jones, Helen Crotwell, Hazel Smith, Elizabeth Powell, Minniebell Powell, and Jeanne Pow-

Clean-Up Drive Headed By Powell, Calhoun, Feb. 21-27

A campus-wide clean-up drive sponsored by the Good Manners Committee, will be held during the week of February 21-27. The purpose of the drive is to bring to the attention of students the importance of keeping the campus, the dormitories, and all other parts of the campus free from trash.

Leila Calhoun and Minnie Belle Powell are co-chairmen of the Good Manners Committee, and have arranged the campaign.

College Theatre Will Present "Cry Havoc," Story Of Bataan Nurses

"Cry Havoc," a story of the heroic nurses of Bataan, will be presented by the College Theatre Thursday and Friday evenings, Friday 17 and 18 at 8:30.

Written by Allan R. Kenward, and composed of an all-girl cast, "Cry Havoc" is the story of thirteen women who remained on Bataan to care for wounded soldiers during MacArthur's delaying withdrawal. The discovery of a spy within the group contributes to the tension and intrigue evident as the women wait to be rescued.

PETITIONS RECEIVED FOR MAJOR OFFICES OF Y. CGA, REC. FEB. 14-21

Petitions for the major offices of College Government Association, Y. W. C. A. and Recreation Association, will be received at the ballot box near CGA office during the week of February 14-21.

The petitions must contain the name of the person, the office for which she is nominated, and at least 25 names requesting her nomination.

Elections will be held on March 1. If there is need for runovers in any of the races they will be held March 3.

Macon Blood Unit To Be Available To GSCW Students

Students will be given opportunity to donate blood to the Blood Plasma Unit when it comes to Macon February 22-24.

The Red Cross down town will see that enough cars go to Macon to take the girls who would like to go at this time. All classes which are missed by those making this trip will be excused by Dean Hoy Taylor.

To donate blood a person must be 18 years old, and if under 21, must have permission from parents—preferably a Red Cross release slip, must weigh at least 115 pounds, must not have had any malaria during the past 15 years, must have had no serious operation or pneumonia within the last six months, and must not have a cold. Other requirements may be obtained by inquiring of Miss Kathryn Scott.

According to the Associate Collegiate Press, Indiana University recently exceeded its quota of 700 pints of blood and had another 100 soldier-donors waiting when blood containers ran out.

Students who would like to go are asked to see Miss Kathryn Scott, who will be in charge of getting transportation to and from Macon through the local Red Cross.

NEXT WAR BOND DRIVE SET FOR FEBRUARY 16

Wednesday, February 16th, is the day scheduled for the next war bond drive. There will be tables placed at various places on the campus, at which bonds and stamps will be sold.

As has been tried previously, there will again be competition between the classes for the largest amount sold.

For the victory of the individual classes and the victory of the armed forces, everybody is urged to buy all the stamps and bonds possible.

DR. KILPATRICK TO GUIDE STUDENTS IN OPEN FORUMS

Dr. William Heard Kilpatrick will be back on the GSCW campus after visiting schools throughout the state. On Friday and Saturday, February 18, 19, he will lead an open forum for juniors and seniors from 11 to 1. Freshmen and sophomores who do not have class conflicts with these meetings are invited.

The group will meet in a body for half an hour to raise questions on any subject. After these questions have been raised smaller groups will discuss them and raise any more which seem to be necessary.

Dr. Kilpatrick will lead the larger group in discussions, student leaders from junior and senior class will conduct the smaller forums, and will be main spokesman at the larger meetings. These students are:

Faye Hancock, Mrs. Louise S. Allen, Betty Boyd, Betty Collins, Mrs. Elizabeth Standard Cook, Rebecca Faust, Doris Proctor, Lottie Wallace, Mary Kennedy, Eugenia Hollingsworth, Margaret Wilson, Jane Strozier, Ann Van Atta, Sara Kirkland, Annette Hodges, Rachel Jones, Jeanne McGill, Bessie Saye, Mary Brewton, Lucy Nell Cunningham, Jane Harrell, Louise Smith.

CGA Constitutional Convention Planned For March 19, 20

Floor Meetings To Be Held For Revision Plans; Rewriting Open To Student Body

Faye Hancock, President of CGA, has called a student body meeting for Wednesday night at 6:45 to discuss the revising or rewriting the Constitution of College Government Association.

RUTH DRAPER

Every student of GSCW will be given a chance to suggest changes that are needed to make the constitution better suited to the needs of students so as to become more capable of a better student government. As a follow-up of the student body meeting, floor meetings will be held in each dormitory; in these floor meetings the individual students will have the first opportunity to make the suggestions for revisions. The procedure followed in discussing these suggestions will be similar to that followed when the upper-class dormitories formed the house codes.

The organization and development of the suggestions gathered from the floor meetings will be in the hands of the Constitutional Convention, March 19-20. At this convention all suggestions will be discussed and the new constitution will be drawn up. All students are invited to come back one day early from Spring holidays to attend these meetings, the first of which is to be held Sunday night, March 19. The entire day Monday will be devoted to different meetings. Bell B will house the students attending the convention. Since the dining hall will not be opened until Monday night, students are asked to buy their own meals.

Draper Likes GSCW Audience; Portrays Characters In Sketches

"You were the very best audience I've had in a long time," stated Ruth Draper after her concert in the Russell Auditorium Monday night.

AIR RAID PLANNED FOR JUNIOR DANCE WITH NAVAL BOYS

Have you heard? Paratroopers? Air-raids? Airplanes? Blackout? 'Tis a fact. So don't ever say it can't happen here, because the Juniors are doing it!

Not only an air raid on our campus, but real live men—well boys anyway. The Juniors have gala plans for their "air raid" dance the 19th, and 60 of the Naval V-12 boys stationed at Mercer are being invited over for it.

The Junior's room and the rec halls are beginning to look like Bell Aircraft or Ft. Benning for airplanes, paratroopers and all the trimmings are being produced on big scale for decorations. Sand bags are being filled, and a "thirst-aid" station being set up because you never can tell at an air-raid dance.

Some of the more optimistic have even suggested perhaps there could be a "black-out" no-break—an impossibility—unless— All faculty members please ignore this last paragraph. We were only kidding, really we were!

By HELEN MATTHEWS

Miss Draper, who has been called one of America's greatest story-tellers, delighted her audience with her skillful portrayals of character sketches and monologues. She writes her own skits, many of which are inspired by close observations and based on actual situations. "In County Kerry" was written from a meeting with an Irish peasant woman while traveling through Ireland just after the last war. "Three Generations" came from a visit to the Court of Domestic Relations in Chicago.

Miss Draper said that her picture of the Englishwoman in "Opening a Bazaar" was more typical of the sweet old women of English aristocracy than that given us by Hollywood, such as the old woman in "Miss Miniver." Miss Draper has spent much time in England and appeared before the King and Queen in 1928.

"It was very nervy of me, wasn't it?" asked Miss Draper after the skit of a "Southern Girl" at a Northern Dance." But then I made the New York debutante even worse."

Her program consisted of a variety of types with the expressed purpose of showing the characteristic speech and life of many types of people such as English aristocracy, Irish peasant. (Continued on Page Three)

Johnson, Saito Chapel Speakers

Miss Katherine Johnson, Dean of Women at Wesleyan College, will be guest speaker on the chapel program February 21. She will discuss general meaning of Brotherhood Week, which will be observed February 20-26.

Brotherhood Week is sponsored by the National Council of Christians and Jews. The theme of the program this year is "Brotherhood or Chaos."

Special programs on this topic will be presented at Morning Watch in all of the dormitories during the week.

Monday, February 28, "Y" will present Perry Saito, a Japanese-American, in chapel and at 6:45 that night. Although he is of Japanese parentage, Mr. Saito is an American citizen.

THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME

By CARLENE OGLEETREE

Buried deep in the chaos of today's world lies a pattern to which we must conform our living even after the strife of war has ceased. For those of us who believe that when the final tops of war are blown the world will return to its pre-war status, a great shock is in store.

Perhaps that might better be termed only the beginning—the beginning of adjustments and readjustments. We, who still share the luxuries and advantages of American life cannot conceive of the true meaning of adjustment as men who return from battle fields will realize it. Hovering close over them, a fear, almost uncertainty fastens itself to plans, to futures, to life. Men seek security, and groping blindly fall again. And on the world moves, unmindful of its tragedy.

The shape of the world to come hangs in the gallery of Unknown. Many artists have dabbed paint on canvases, but no portrait can be finished until the testing of war is over. There are only a few facts about which we can be sure in this picture of tomorrow: the darkness of strife will be erased; the difference of color and creeds will be insignificant; selfishness will find no place—even in the background.

And so, fellow youth, the problem is yours! What is the shape of things to come?

MY FRANS... NOW IS TIME FOR GOOD STUDENTS TO...

By MARY BREWTON

My frans, do you lock the doors before you get into a bull session with your frans? Do you look behind picture frames for dictaphones before you speak your mind on present political affairs? Do you fuss in private, but excuse yourself from speaking an opinion in public by telling yourself, "Oh, well, they won't do anything about it anyway!"

If you do and can't sleep nights for dreaming you're a jellyfish without a backbone, forget about locking doors and looking for dictaphones. Give out with your opinion in a "but large" voice and press your representatives to represent you. Contribute your ideas, plans, and personality toward making the Constitutional Convention a success! Convene around and hear things buzz!

P.S. Those of you who have laryngitis can do your part by writing a letter to the editor, or if you've broken your arm, try making signs at your officers. Most of them aren't so bright they can't understand the language of the dumb!

P.S. Be sure your candidates for office will be for you!

Letters To The Editor—

Dear Editor:

For those of us who stay at school going to classes day in, day out—concentrating on sulfuric acid and sight-singing, Edgar Allan Poe, and the law of inertia—it has been pretty hard to realize that there's a war going on.

All day we sit in class, the library, and the show—seeing and hearing about the plans of strategy our men make. We hear of victory after victory in battles; we read of advances made by the Fifth Army in Italy, conferences at Teheran and Cairo—but still the war seems miles away—not completely part of us.

True, we have sweethearts, brothers and husbands there—yet we don't know what they're doing—we can't tell how or what kind of lives they're leading—and we need and we want to know facts. Deep down we want to be just as much a part of this conflict as those boys we're missing; we want to give 'em it hurts; we'll give without complaining, too.

There are eight hundred of us here—all together we represent just about that many and several more boys fighting this war for us. What more direct contact with the fronts could we ask for? As Lieut. Caud has said—this is our war, too, and we want to know more about it.

The teachers, elders, and the fellow students who are better informed about this war, we ask one simple question—tell us what facts we can know. Help us to remember we're fighting, too. When there is danger afoot, and the majority of us lazy Southerners are so asleep we can't realize it—it's up to the alert minority to put us on our toes.

How can we be reminded? By having more chapel speakers as Lieut. Caud and Dr. Gosnell, who talk about problems concerning us; by conducting more open forums in chapel on such questions as post-war planning; by offering again competition between classes on the purchase of War Bonds and Stamps; by stimulating anew group discussions about present-day world conditions.

"Elpatrick was fair."

The World This Week

By ELIZABETH SHREVE

During this past week of the war in Italy, the Germans have launched counter-attacks on the Allied bridgehead below Rome. There has been indecisive fighting in the mountains around Cassino and also in the city itself. For the first time in the Italian campaign the Germans are throwing in their Reichsführer Elite Guard. Despite Allied naval and air superiority the enemy is still able to hold out, sometimes advancing on the land. There is now sign either of a swift junction of Allied forces or a triumphant march on Rome in the near future.

The Russians, in an attempt to get the Finns out of the war, have bombed Helsinki for several nights, starting fires in the center of the city, at the rail junction, and in the port areas. It has been reported that many people are fleeing from the city.

In the Pacific area, from the Marshall Islands, Admiral Nimitz has announced that all Japanese resistance on the three islands of Kwajalein Atoll has ceased, thus placing all except eleven of the thirty coral spits in full American control. This victory in the Kwajalein Atoll has been won without a single naval loss and with only moderate casualties.

HASLAM ELECTED FACULTY ADVISOR TO TOWN GIRLS

George Haslam, professor of journalism, was elected faculty advisor for the GSCW Town Girls' Club in a run-over election held this week. In the first election Mr. Haslam tied with Dr. John Morgan, head of the department of sociology. Mr. Haslam accepted the position.

JESSIES JIVE

Cupid stowed! Yet even though he's in quite a jam he can really shoot arrows into the hearts of roaming guys from the hearts of "Jessie's." The tips are all poisoned "with love."

Jolly England holds the heart interests of Vera Massey, Charlene Osborne, Helen Wallace, Jeanette Todd, Anne Mayo, and Betty Horne. Brother gets love, too, from Dot Thompson and Kate McKemie.

Miriam Bailey, Cupid's problem child, has her heart divided between GMC, Citadel, and Emory. May the best school win!

In the South Pacific is the "man-i-love" of Leila Calhoun, Sal Melton's "Pal," and the hearts of Claire Morris, Pete Chapman and Jane Bagley. Rebecca Faust's and Carolyn King's thoughts are in New Guinea and Joyce Forrester's in Italy. Also in Australia is Anne Tinsley's brother.

The committee working with them is composed of Miss Jessie Trawick, faculty representative on the Civilian Morale Committee, and her two helpers are Virginia Olson and Ann Boyd, sophomore and freshman representatives. The Education Club is scheduled to check charge February 19-26.

Clubs To Sponsor Civilian Morale Board

The departmental clubs will take turn sponsoring the Civilian Morale bulletin board for the coming weeks, each taking care of two different bulletin board projects. The Chemistry Club featured two during the week February 5-12. The theme of the first project was "The Blood Bank," and of the second, "Tim Conservation." The clipping used pertained to the part played by chemistry in the war. Melba Hale and Bessie Saye made posters.

One GSCW girl got married back in the days of "rules" A. G. Powell in his new book, I Can Go Home Again, tells of his courtship difficulties on our fair campus. If you think we have troubles, read chapter 24 in that book and discover the truth. It's in the library now.

More Wandering Hearts! TUMBLERS TO PERFORM AT BOYS' TRAINING SCHOOL

The Tumbling Club has arranged to give a performance for the Boys' Training School on Wednesday, February 16.

Pat Ingle is another one with a divided heart—GMC, Marines, Army (what a good looking lieut.)

Marge Flahive's special dish is in Trinidad, while Anarah Carter dreams of Italy; Betty Armour "ditto," and Miriam Timmon's "Bob" is in Palestine.

Margaret Field's brother, Will, a Marine Captain (oh, boy!), is in Hawaii, and in that sunny spot we find likewise the heart of Anne Carson.

Greece holds the true beam of Mildred Callahan's searchlight and Billie Pollard's ray is directed toward Panama.

Freddy Giles, Josephine Madodox, Ruth Sheppard, Claudine Wood, Peggy Marsh, Betty Burris.

Elizabeth Wade, Joyce Newton, Jean Pendland, Betty Daubs, Elvora Paredes, Virginia Wood, Penelope Lee, Hatcher, Frances Newton, Blanca Rosea Member, Ann Isabell.

Mary E. Brantley, Margaret Harry, Brooksie Mercer, Ann Cordeil.

GSCW HOST TO IRC CONVENTION

RACE IN POST WAR WORLD DISCUSSED BY STUDY GROUP

The International Relations Club was host to other clubs throughout the state for the state convention Saturday, Wesleyan, Bessie Tift, and Brenau colleges were represented.

The meeting began early in the afternoon with a round-table discussion on post-war planning.

Dean Hoy Taylor led the discussion. Mr. M. A. Eakins, Miss Helen Green, and Mr. George Haslam served as faculty resource persons.

A dinner in the tea room followed the round-table discussion.

After dinner, Mrs. Sherriff, a new faculty member at Wesleyan, spoke on "Anglo-American Cooperation in Post-War Era."

On February 15, two music majors of GSCW played: Sara Milly Parks, Hartwell; and Betty Ward, Arlington. Sara Milly played the marimba and Betty, the piano.

Surgical Dressings Room Now Open; Boys Overseas Need Them

By BEE MCCORMACK

The opportunity for real war work here at school is, as you know, somewhat limited. Some of us have given blood; many of us have bought bonds and stamps; most of us are conserving vital materials; and all of us are saving and collecting necessary scrap. But, it is, unfortunately, sadly true that few GSCW girls are willing to avail themselves of the convenient opportunity for important war work offered by our Red Cross Surgical Dressings Room.

Dinner Planned By Seniors For March 8

The senior class has planned a formal dinner for March 8, at 6:30 o'clock, with Jeanne McGill as chairman. Invitations will be sent to the faculty members.

Rolling bandages require a little, and a very easily acquired skill. Supervisors are provided for assistance and instruction.

The Surgical Dressings room is conveniently located in the basement of Terrell B—no more than a few steps distance from any student on the campus.

Surgical bandages are desperately needed by our fighting men overseas, men who have been wounded in battle to preserve our security.

And yet, the number of girls are willing to give but a few hours each week for this work is alarmingly small, and looks very poorly for the spirit of our school. Most of us can find many hours each week for the movies. Can't we all try to set aside a few hours each week to help our fighting men?

The Surgical Dressings room is open each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and evening from 4:6 and 7:9. Regular workers, that is girls who are willing to give their time each week, are needed immediately in order that the room be kept in operation.

Let's turn out en masse to roll bandages. We can know, then, that we are individually contributing to the ease of the boys who are defending us. Won't you help?

STUDENTS VOTE TO INCREASE FEE

By a vote of the majority of the students the Student Activity Fee will be raised one dollar per quarter, beginning Fall Quarter 1944. The increase in the fee will provide the student body with a better quality of lyceum and concert series programs. Students will be given an opportunity to aid in the choice of the performers.

Students, Faculty Elected To Society

The Executive Committee of Beta Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu of GSCW has examined the scholarship records and the qualifications for leadership of the following students and faculty members and has recommended to the Chapter that they be invited to become members of Pi Gamma Mu:

Betty Collins, Rachel Jones,

Faye Hancock, Josephine Hunt,

JIVETTES REVEAL COURT SPLendor ON TWO NIGHTS IN SWIM DEMONSTRATION

King Neptune's Jivettes will parade in review Monday and Tuesday nights, February 28 and 29, when the Penguin Club presents demonstrations from 8 til 9 in the college pool. The Court of the Sea King will be revealed in all its aquatic splendor; with a coronation, a wedding ceremony, and a duel thrown in. Members of the club will offer a varied repertoire, including bobbing on a canoe, swimming under water, and swimming in formations.

The demonstration is being presented on two nights in order that the entire student body may have an opportunity to see it.

Proctor And Watson Interview Beeson On Georgia Day Program

The History club of GSCW chose Milledgeville as the subject for the annual Georgia Day program in chapel on Friday. It took the form of an interview of Mrs. J. L. Beeson on her new book, "Stories of Milledgeville and Baldwin County." Doris Proctor, program chairman of the club and Grace Watson conducted the interview.

Doris Proctor presided over the exercises, Marjorie Briscoe read the devotional, and Katie Thompson sang two Georgia songs: Georgia Land by Mrs. Nelle W. Hines, and the Georgia State Song.

Interest In Post-War Plans Will Insure Future Peace, Says Lippman

By HAZEL SMITH

"The United States brought on its own war!"

This is a shocking statement but it is true according to Walter Lippman, who discusses our part in the present war in his book United States Foreign Policy.

Mr. Lippmann is well qualified to discuss this subject as he has been on the "inside" since war started. He gives the reasons why we were caught napping at Pearl Harbor, the main one being our hesitation to decide whom we would have as our allies.

Russia, China, Great Britain, and the United States are at war with the Axis nations and U. S. Foreign Policy shows clearly that that alone none of the Allies could defeat the Axis.

These two questions—Can the United States make foreign commitments without a foreign policy and the force to back it up? and Can we now agree upon a foreign policy which will safeguard our future? are features of this book.

In order to be able to insure future peace the U.S. must take an interest in the post war plans. If our country adopts an isolationist attitude as it did after World War I, our children will have to fight too. Mr. Lippman tears down all the old beliefs that the Western Hemisphere can exist alone and shows us how we can easily fail to win the peace now.

Keep up with the news so you can talk to your travelled soldier when he comes home. U. S. Foreign Policy is in the Rental Library.

Sunday School Study Course For Baptists Taught By Rev. Polk

Rev. Reed Polk of Madison, Ga., taught a Sunday School study course on Soul Winning Doctrines at the Baptist church Saturday.

The book by Dr. J. Clyde Turner was discussed at an all-day session, beginning at 9:30 a.m. and lasting through the afternoon with time out for lunch, which was served at the church.

Vera Massey, Sunday School Director, was in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Mildred Owen Landry, former Baptist Student Secretary on this campus, led a discussion on Worldliness Out, here on Saturday night, February 12. Dorothy Stevens, Methodist Student Secretary at GSCW, discussed Sabbath Observance February 5. Both these topics were taken from books in the My Covenant series.

BAGLEY TO WED EUGENE HIGGINS

Mary Bagley resigned her position as student worker of the Milledgeville Presbyterian church last week as her fiance has returned from the South Pacific war front. Miss Bagley and Lieut. Eugene Higgins of the United States Marine Corps will be married in her home, Fayetteville, Tenn., sometime this week.

Miss Bagley has been with the GSCW group since September. Mr. John McMullen, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will act as advisor for the Westminster Fellowship group through the remainder of this year.

TOWN GIRLS NEWS

By JAY MCCOY

Something new has been added! For the first time in its history the Town Girls' Club will entertain with a dance on Saturday evening, March 4, at eight o'clock. This affair could be called an official house warming for it is to be held in the Town Girls' Room and the adjoining parlor. Invitations will be sent and in order to solve the manpower shortage, each girl is expected to bring a man.

College. A number of students will attend from GSCW.

The problem of music hasn't been solved yet for the club can't decide on which orchestra they want—Harry James or Tommy Dorsey, but this factor will be settled soon. The club had considered asking Frank Sinatra to come but since he is so frail they hate to endanger his health by exposing him to the Georgia climate. So, they'll have to swoon to someone else's crooning.

Plans for the dance are in the hands of a committee headed by co-chairmen Kay Carpenter and Mildred Johnson.

Air Force Is New Branch Of WAC; Mid-Year College Grads Eligible

Fort Worth, Texas—Women's Army Corps assignments as Air Wacs at Army Air Forces stations throughout the country are awaiting the co-eds who are about to receive their diplomas, and they will find many a former co-ed ready to give them a welcome at the posts of the winged star.

Impending mid-year graduations are the first since new regulations were issued, under which a woman enlisting in the Women's Army Corps can choose the AF as the branch in which she will serve, and wear its sleeve insignia.

Among the Wacs approximately one-fourth have attended college in higher ratio than in the general population, it was pointed out here at Headquarters of the AAF Training Command, which is assisting the Army Recruiting Service in enlisting Air Wacs for the entire AAF.

Air Wacs have proved their abilities in scores of important assignments at AAF training stations and air bases. They direct plane traffic at air fields, maintain flight logs and weather records, repair precision instruments and airplane electrical circuits, handle photographic film and plot maps. They serve as laboratory technicians, test plane radios and synchronize propellers. Some of them are Link Trainer instructors, teaching pilots to fly by instrument.

They are acquiring practical experience in all their assignments, a factor which ranks with education in the launching of a career in the post-war world, whether they remain in aviation or try another field.

Life in the barracks, the mess hall, and the post-Service Club be held February 22. The members are as lively as in the college dormitory and the campus hangs out. Instead of dating and dancing with a halfback the Air Wacs their meetings.

CHEMISTRY CLUB MAKES PLANS TO ROLL BANDAGES

The Chemistry Club held a meeting last Thursday night and discussed current affairs. The next meeting will be Thursday night of this week. Business at that meeting will include the election of a new secretary. After the meeting the members plan to roll bandages at the surgical dressing room.

YWA HAS PROGRAM ON FOREIGN MISSIONS

The members of the college Young Woman's Auxiliary met at the Baptist church last Tuesday. The program, under the direction of Carmen Singletary, was on the subject of Africa and Foreign Missions.

The next YWA meeting will be held February 22. The members are as lively as in the college dormitory and the campus hangs out. Instead of dating and dancing with a halfback the Air Wacs their meetings.
